Address Confidentiality Program Launched in Michigan

"Survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault and other abuse can now hide their addresses in public records through a new state program launched Wednesday.

The Address Confidentiality Program is aimed at protecting survivors and help them live without fear of their abusers tracking them down.

"We want to offer survivors every opportunity to know they can be safe," Michigan Attorney General Dana Nessel told News 8 Wednesday during an interview in South Haven." (https://www.woodtv.com/news/michigan/new-state-program-hides-address-of-violence-survivors/)

Home Repairs?? Vehicle Maintenance??

Do these leave you confused and frustrated?? As Selah's Education Coordinator, Shari Murdock is always looking for more ways to meet the needs of Selah women. Up next on her list of ideas is a workshop on basic home and vehicle maintenance! But before she can put this together, she needs to know a little more about your availability, experience, and level of expertise (or lack of expertise!). Please click HERE for the link to the survey to complete and submit a short survey so Shari can plan well to develop a great workshop geared to your interest and needs! Questions can be directed to sharim@selahempowers.org.

Childcare: Please let us know ahead of time if you will need childcare, however, we know schedules change, so if you don't get a chance to let us know before class that will be fine, too.

Safe Environment: We want to provide a confidential and safe environment for everyone to share and receive support. We also recognize that some material covered in this group is sensitive and can be triggering. Please practice healthy self-care and let us know if you are feeling overwhelmed or need to speak privately.

How Can We be in Prayer For You?

In Selah online and in person classes, facilitators often extend the opportunity for participants to share a prayer request. These are anonymously passed along to a team of individuals who are committed to praying over Selah, it's leaders and most especially for Selah participants. If you have a prayer request you would like to submit, please feel free to do so by dropping an email to shirleyr@selahempowers.org. Your email will be handled with confidentiality, care, and covered in prayer!
